What Is PodGorilla?

PodGorilla is an all-in-one podcast automation platform that allows anyone to launch, manage, and scale a professional podcast—without recording, editing, or technical skills.

Using AI-driven content generation and advanced voice synthesis, PodGorilla turns written content, blog posts, and scripts into natural-sounding podcast episodes in minutes.

Core capabilities include:

- AI-generated podcast scripts
- Natural voiceovers (multiple speakers, AI voices, or custom voice clones)
- Automatic show creation
- Episode scheduling
- Cover art generation
- Publishing to Spotify, Apple Podcasts, Google Podcasts, and more
- Full video podcast creation

PodGorilla reduces the entire process to a single workflow, making podcasting accessible even to complete beginners.

Who Created PodGorilla?

PodGorilla was developed by Neil Napier, a respected digital marketer known for creating automation tools that help entrepreneurs streamline their businesses.

His previous products—including Mailvio, EZLocal, Local AI Fleet, Faceless Social, and Local Leader—have helped thousands of users simplify client work, boost visibility, and automate marketing tasks.

With PodGorilla, Neil Napier brings that same automation expertise to podcasting by eliminating the biggest barriers: recording, editing, scripting, production, and distribution.
